
Presidential Primary Poll

Posted by jim - 2008/01/17 12:09

As a person with no party affiliation, I won't be voting in the primary or our poll about the primaries. Due to that, I wanted to start a discussion about the coming election in general, not specific to any party or candidate.

Are there any promising Independent candidates out there this year?

I took some of the presidential candidate matching tests we posted a few days ago but did not come up with a close match.

=====