
looking for advice about local schools

Posted by lindamum - 2008/05/14 09:00

Hi - I'm about to move to Bedford, probably around the Flitwick area, with my daughter, who'll be going into year 8 in September. I want to start looking at schools - does anyone have inside info, or just thoughts on the relative merits / non merits of schools in the area - eg Woodland Middle School? If you'd rather email me than post, you're welcome to, at: lindalocket@live.com

All advice gratefully received - its a nightmare when you don't know the lie of the land

I think you have the wrong Bedford. There is no Woodland Middle School in this area. Nor either of the housing additions that you mentioned. If you choose to come here to Bedford Indiana, anyone here would be glad to assist you with your needed information.

Not sure why I thought you had mentioned two residential areas. Anyway, there you have it.
